Introduction to THE ~IT~ CHING!

A Book of Spare Change From The Itchy Manitou***

As compiled by semi-fictional author T.P. Leaky.

Just what THE ~IT~ CHING! is and the use of ~IT~ as an oracle.

THE ~IT~ CHING! is a collection of virtual wisdom, pertaining to any conceivable circumstance. ~IT~ originates in the imagination of a pretend author and is a relaxed parallax parody to the ancient classical text The I Ching.

"~IT~ CHING! " means "Book of Spare Change" or "~IT~ iS A TIRE."

Recollecting other age old advice about changing...

"To every thing there is a seasoning. A time to sow, a time to grow and a time to go. Go far, far away."

"And a place for all things. Even if that place is to illustrate clearly how not to be."

"Hope for the beast, prepare for the wurst and expect only the unexpected."

"~IT~ does not matter how you look at ~IT~ ~IT~ is never what you expect."

"Humour is the subversion of expectation."

"Sometimes you have to take something perfectly good and change ~IT~ just to make ~IT~ your own. (Note to self: conduct further research on Jack Donaghy. 30 Rock, NYC.)

Excerpts from short story "Don't Wipe With Poison Ivy and Other Tales From Nana's Burning Bush. Including; Why ~IT~ Is Never A Good Idea To Beat Around the Mulberry Bush with a Dead Horse" provided courtesy of ~IT~ by Dyl W.

What is ~IT~ !?

Find out only at The Launch Party of the Century for Dylan's newest eBook!

Just part of the exclusive activities occurring for one day only at Gore's Day 2013!

~IT~ is coming this August the 24th, 2013 to the Community Hall in Gore Bay, Ontario, Canada on Manitoulin Island in Lake Huron!

Hexagrams

There are 64 different main kinds of situations in THE ~IT~ CHING as listed on PAGE 6. Each ~IT~ CHING~ Fortune is indicated by a hexagram, which is a symbol consisting of 6 lines. Each line is either broken __ or unbroken ___.

To obtain advice from THE ~IT~ CHING about one's current situation, one consults ~IT~ as an oracle. To unveil the hexagram which is related to the situation at hand, a "random" hexagram is obtained by throwing coins, specially marked Anti-Landmines or a 64-sided Hexacontatetragon die. (Although yarrow sticks or turtle shell cracks were traditionally utilized for the ancient I Ching.) The "randomness" of this hexagram is supposed to not be random at all, but to coincide with the situation upon which the caster was concentrating.

There doesn't seem to be any scientific theory that explains how ~IT~ can be (although some people think quantum mechanic mumbo-jumbo provides a potential explanation for ~IT~.) However, experience shows that ~IT~ works in practice.

Faux psycho-anthropologist T.P. Leaky, who continues to study ~IT~ and is currently compiling THE ~IT~ CHING!, identifies the coinciding happenstance of seemingly unrelated events such as "synchronicity", "synergy", and "serendipity" as "symbiosmosium" or the process of symbiotic osmosis common to symposiums.

Determining hexagrams from lines

Hexagrams are sets of six lines, that can be broken __ or unbroken ___. The broken lines are "yin," the unbroken lines "yang." Something is yin when ~IT~ is female or dark, hellish, passive, negative, taking etc... and yang when ~IT~ is male or light, heavenly, active, positive, giving etc...

A number corresponds to each of the 64 hexagrams.

Consulting the THE ~IT~ CHING!

Traditionally THE ~IT~ CHING! is consulted by throwing Anti-Landmines, but a set of three coins may also be used. Please consult APPENDIX A at the rear of THE ~IT~ CHING! for Anti-Landmine assembly instructions.

Anti-Landmines or Coins are thrown six times, while a question is held in mind. ~IT~ is also possible to just let THE ~IT~ CHING! comment on ones current state, when no question is held. (However, THE ~IT~ CHING! will only comment on ones current circumstance; ~IT~ will not predict the future.)

The hexagram is built from the top down, so the first line is the top one, the sixth line the bottom one.

To calculate the lines from the coins thrown, values are assigned to the coins' sides. Tails equals a value of 2, heads a value of 3. The values of the three coins are added to get the total to determine the line. There are four possibilities:

Even totals (6 or 8) give rise to a yin __ line, odd totals (7 or 9) a yang ___ line.

Throws with all tails or all heads are considered promotional lines. A promotional line is a line that changes from yin to yang or vice versa. The hexagram that is formed with the promotional lines being changed to their opposite is the "resultant hexagram."

Continued..

Look up which ~IT~ CHING~ Fortune text number goes with the corresponding hexagram lines for your throws on PAGE 5 And the Master Table of ~IT~ CHING! Fortunes on PAGE 6. The scheme for determining the lines from your throws is also located on PAGE 5.

How to interpret THE ~IT~ CHING! consultation:

Zero promotional lines.

Consider THE ~IT~ CHING! Fortune text of the corresponding hexagram number.

1 promotional line.

Consider the promotional line as well.

2 or 3 promotional lines.

Consider the promotional line, and also the Fortune text of the number corresponding to the resultant hexagram.

4, 5 or 6 promotional lines.

Consider just the relation of the Fortune texts of the numbers corresponding to the base and resultant hexagrams.

You can also support the creation of the more thorough revised compellation of THE ~IT~ CHING! eBook. Including the inclusion of traditional changing lines via our Anti-Landmine crowd source project on IndieGoGo!

Hexagram grid

Use this hexagram grid to find the THE ~IT~ CHING Fortune number from your casting. The trigrams in the top row are the upper three lines of the hexagram (the first three lines cast), the trigrams at the left side are the lower three lines (the last three cast). Find the hexagram number that is at the intersection of the row from the side trigram, and the column from the top trigram.
